

eHealth Professionals Knowledge Network

The eHealth Professionals Knowledge Network is a new learning and sharing space for health information system (HIS) professionals. HIS professionals across the globe experience similar limitations and share a need for resources to overcome them. While there is a great variety of training resources available, but resources can be difficult to access, or not relevant enough.

To meet this need, this learning community will support HIS professionals through knowledge sharing activities, promoting existing global goods resources, and cooperatively providing input for new training resources. Relevant content and topics will be featured in activities, workshops, and presentations based upon learning community interest and input.

Peer-learning: Sharing resources and challenges

Ongoing professional development and support

Input and feedback on Learning materials and goals

Low time commitment: virtual meetings & self-paced resources

THE NETWORK

The eHP Knowledge Network is comprised of professionals around the globe who contribute to development, support, and sustaining health information systems and technology including:

- Systems Engineers / Developers
- Business/Systems Analysts
- Project Managers & Administrators
- Healthcare Providers
- Systems Administrators

Get Started on the Community Hub!

<https://wiki.ohie.org/x/AgB4CQ>