OpenHIE Community Structure

OpenHIE is a community of practice made up of different leadership groups, interest groups, committees and boards. The visual below depicts the relationship and information flow between these different groups not a hierarchy. (Note: Some parts of the community are still under development)