

Data Use Community

Welcome to the Data Use Community (DUC)!

The DUC was built to leverage the expertise in clinical care, systems, policy, and data reuse and analysis, along with the field experience available across implementing agencies, ministries, and implementing partners, to create a peer support network of interested practitioners. This DUC will initially focus on guidance regarding approaches for enhancing continuity of treatment and interruption in treatment. We propose to then extend this tested approach to address other evolving priorities that can only be addressed through individual patient-level data.

The DUC will operate in a community and iterative way to support U.S. Government country teams and Ministries of Health.

The DUC will initially be working towards the following goals:

- Be initiated with founding members with relevant clinical expertise for HIV prevention, treatment, and care, informatics, and data science.
- Consolidate best practices, drawn from country experience, to a generally applicable and context-specific approach to improve continuity of treatment and reduce interruption in treatment, with specific attention to the data and systems approach.
- Ensure field experience sharing, improve interagency coordination and collaboration, and integrate group efforts to support program goals.

If you are interested in joining, feel free to join our mailing list on our website. Also, feel free to contact info@duc.ohie.org if you have any questions.

Shareable Message on the DUC

Do you want to share the DUC with your network? Check out the shareable message below to copy-and-paste to your peers and colleagues.

Hello,

I wanted to reach out and share the Data Use Community \(DUC\) with you! The DUC is a network made up of organizations and individuals currently focusing on guidance regarding approaches for enhancing treatment continuity.

Monthly Community Meetings

The monthly community meetings are the heart of the Data Use Community. This was the original meeting point where we hope to see the whole community to come together to discuss and hear the work of this making efforts in-country on data use, HIV prevention and the efforts within the HIV treatment cycle. Each month will have a different focus that will be advertised as soon as possible. Suggest meeting topics on the community forum!
