Third Party Toolkits

The OpenSHR implementation of CDA relies on several third party software components to assist in the import of document data.